

Regulations for VdR–Industry Submissions: VdR–Pitching, VdR–Work in Progress, VdR–Rough Cut Lab (6 - 9 April 2025).

1. Presentation

Visions du Réel hosts one of the most important film industry events in Europe, offering a wide range of networking, project and capacity building opportunities for international film professionals, all under the banner of VdR–Industry.

VdR–Industry, which takes place from 6-9 April 2025 in Nyon, Switzerland, selects and promotes unfinished projects throughout the various stages of their production process, offering film teams a platform to present their projects to decision-makers and potential partners.

For every edition, we seek to launch into the world singular and original projects that combine artistic ambition, high visual quality and international potential.

2. VdR–Industry activities

In 2025, VdR–Industry focuses on three major activities for feature film projects in development stage, in editing stage or in finishing stage.

VdR–Pitching

The VdR–Pitching showcase is Visions du Réel’s competitive international co-production and co-financing forum, launching fifteen projects in late development to the international market. The event offers the participants the opportunity to not only pitch their projects to key players, but also discuss their content and form of roundtables and one-to-one meetings to explore which financing and distribution options as well as markets are most organic and relevant to them. The goal is to foster international collaborations to support outstanding film projects addressing an international audience.

VdR–Work in Progress

The VdR–Work in Progress Showcase is an exclusive presentation of projects to film professionals including festival representatives, funders supporting post-production, post-production facilities, sales agents, distributors, TV buyers, and more, followed by curated individual meetings designed to secure new partners to assist in accessing finishing funds and future distribution pathways.

VdR–Rough Cut Lab

The Rough Cut Lab is a competitive lab dedicated to supporting filmmakers during the editing process to find the best creative direction for their films. Four rough cuts are discussed together with the film team alongside tutors (experienced editors and industry professionals) during a multi-day workshop that takes place during the VdR–Industry programme.

3. Conditions for admission

5. Selection of a project

Selection Process

The selection process will take place as a rolling process from November 2024 to February 2025. The Artistic Director and Head of Industry, together with an international selection committee, select the projects for the VdR-Industry activities. The Selection Committee reserves the right to choose the activity in which the project will be presented, according to the project timeline and in discussion with the project holders.

Selection Criteria

The main criteria for selection include:

- The artistic quality of the project including strong directorial vision.
- International potential in terms of production and distribution.
- Financial feasibility.
- The track record of the directors and/or producers.

Visual materials (such as teaser, selected scenes etc.) play a key role in the assessment process as do the director's and producer's statement, budget summary and financing plan.

The Selection Committee reserves the right to choose the activity in which the project will be presented, according to the project timeline and in discussion with the submitter.

To avoid any conflict of interest in the project selection process, members of the selection committee who are decision-makers in the development of a project, or who are perceived to have had a direct or indirect conflict, may not take part in discussions concerning it.

The following sentence should also be mentioned in the credits: “[film title] participated in the 2025 VdR-Pitching/Work in Progress/Rough Cut Lab at Visions du Réel”.

If the project wins an award, the following sentence should also be added: “... where it received the [name of the award]”.

The submitter guarantees the rights to use material from the project for promotional purposes by Visions du Réel.

11. Copyright of materials

If selected, the submitter will be provided with a timeline regarding the submission of written and visual materials for publication (web and print), publicity and communications as well as for the activity.

For each selected project, information and material sent for the selection process can be updated any time before their publication (web and print) and for VdR–Industry communication. The selected projects will be published in the VdR–Industry catalogue. This catalogue will be sent by e-mail to the potential partners registered for the event prior to the Festival. During the Festival, a printed copy will be available for VdR–Industry participants. The information about the selected projects will also be published on Visions du Réel website, in a part accessible only for the professionals accredited within VdR–Industry.

The submitter guarantees that they hold all the necessary copyrights to the project submitted, in terms of ideas, images, sounds, etc. In any event, the Submitter warrants that it has obtained the permission of the copyright holders of all copyrighted material included in the submitted project and all submitted film stills related to the project for all purposes for which the material will be used, including screening, promotion, and press publications.

By providing these materials, the submitter gives Visions du Réel the permission to use them at www.visionsdureel.ch and for various promotional purposes of VdR–Industry 2025. The submitter guarantees that Visions du Réel will not be held responsible for any claim from copyright holders in relation to the use of the submitted project by Visions du Réel for the agreed purposes.

The submitter undertakes to indemnify Visions du Réel against all claims of copyright, image right or any similar claim by a third party who claims, rightly or wrongly, to be the owner of an intellectual property right on the submitted project and to take charge of all the amounts to be paid by Visions du Réel in this respect. All these claims are the sole responsibility of the submitter. If it appears that the submitter did not have all the rights related to the project submitted, they will be liable for any additional damages that Visions du Réel may claim. Visions du Réel reserves the right to disqualify any project containing unauthorised inclusion of copyrighted material.
